Tuition Rewards is a certificate that you redeem online. I do not have a confirmation on when these will be available. These are sent from the company with the list of sellers by students. It is based on the dollar amount sold by each student.

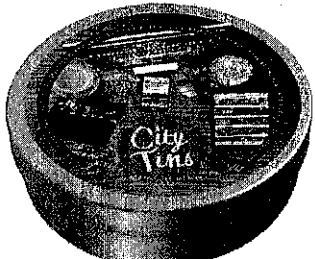

For all the prizes, including the ones listed above, please email Colleen at cfitz@mcw.edu if you see any errors. I can correct the list up until we have the rootbeer float party but I have no way of doing anything after the date as passed. So if you think you sold a different amount and should have qualified for a prize please let me know so I can adjust the list and get it to the teacher.
