TITLE I NIGHT AT BETTY BRINN CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

The Museum features interactive exhibits and engaging educational programs that promote school readiness, including the development of early literacy, beginning math and science concepts, and problem-solving, physical and social skills.

In recognition of National Title I Month, Catapult Learning in partnership with the Betty Brinn Children's Museum will host a 'Family Focus' Evening where Title I families will meet up and spend the evening together learning how to help their children succeed in reading, language arts and math.

Activities will include:

- Museum orientation
- Access to all of the Museum's hands-on exhibits
- Make & Take in the Be A Maker space
- Teju the Storyteller
- ONFYAH (learning basic math using rhythms and patterns )
- One year complimentary membership
- Family Reading/Math book bag

The evening also includes:

- Child care
- Transportation available, if needed
- Refreshments from 5:00-6:00
